Want to Make Your Classes More Accessible to All? Come See What UDL Can Do For You!

Andreia Arai-Rissman (George Brown)

Come and embark on a teaching journey to make education more accessible to all learners. In the workshop: "Want to make your classes more accessible to all? Come see what UDL can do for you", we will discuss:

- What Universal Design for Learning is

- How Universal Design for Learning (UDL) ensures that laws are being followed

- The benefits of UDL for:

    - the educational institution

    - the curriculum

    - the instructors

    - the students

- ways of incorporating UDL in the classroom

Andreia Arai-Rissman has been an educator for over 22 years. She has experience teaching TESOL, ESL, COMM classes, specialty classes such as Business, test preparation, Event Planning, HR, Hospitality, Leadership, among others. She has also worked as an academic manager, a curriculum developer utilizing UDL principles, a test examiner and has worked for several colleges and private institutions. She holds a Bachelor of Arts, a Bachelor of Education and a Master of Education.